Our creativity workshops combine Brain Gym movement, guided visualisation exercises, improvisation, story telling and character animation. The result of these techniques is a group of students whose brains and senses are 'switched on', focused, relaxed, motivated and fully engaged. They have a tool with which they can communicate their views, opinions and stories with ease- without feeling threatened, judged, shame or blame.

Fees: Each full-day of workshops will be charged at Euro 775 or AUD1000 for six hours of programming. These may be scheduled as follows:
3 x two-hour workshops - specifically for primary school and younger students
2 x three-hour workshops - ideal for high school students and teachers

1 x six-hour Professional Development Program for High School and/or Teachers PD
Half-day workshops are also be available.
A five-day week (Monday to Friday) will cost Euro 3875/ AUD 5000.
50% of the workshop fee should be paid upfront, upon the reservation of the booking, unless otherwise agreed.

Accommodation and local transport must be covered by the school or organisation. It is acceptable for the school to provide accommodation in either a hotel, residence or accomodation with school staff.

A maximum of 25 students / teachers may participate in each workshop session

Materials Required

The school or institution is requested to supply a roll of 60 to 70 GSM brown packaging paper, which will allow three-to-six meters per participant. A Stanley knife is needed for cutting the paper into sheets.

The Workshop Space

The workshop venue should be darkened and a theatre profile spotlight on stand or alternatively a few desk spotlights should be made available. The light is important in bringing the paper to life and creating the magic effect of facial features appearing in the darkness.

We also require a speaker system through which to play our warm-up music - for this we require a mini-jack input from the iPhone.
